LJV April 9th letter to parents (financial update) Details

Dear LJV parents,

We hope everyone is staying healthy, productive, and keeping up with schoolwork, and not going too stir-crazy at home. We truly hope you're discovering new things about yourself and your family (for better or for worse!), like maybe improving your cooking skills, or family meals, etc… I do not have any new updates or news to share with you at this time, but I just wanted to be sure to touch base before the weekend.

Financial Update:
As previously mentioned, we will be calculating prorated refunds after the season has concluded (exact date not yet determined). Because most of our club season expenses were up-front costs, we do need to wait until the close of the season to see the refunds and credits available to refund to our families. For those of you who had an extended payment plan into April, we have been able to put a temporary hold on April's automatic payments, in an arrangement with SportsEngine, so you will not be charged on April 15th.

Thank you for your patience and understanding.

Please enjoy your weekend, and rest assured that we are working constantly to keep in touch with all volleyball organizations and working to implement plans and options to help your daughters as best we can! The highest priority and concern right now is everyone's health and safety, while working to be prepared for our return to volleyball :)

Happy Easter and Happy Passover!
